

School Nutrition Program Application FAQ

All students were eligible for free meals during the 2021-2022 school year, will that continue for the 2022-2023 school year?

The United States Department of Agriculture did not extend the free meal program for the 2022-2023 school year, meals will NOT be free for any family that has not been approved for free/reduced meals in the 2022-2023 school year. It is very important to fill out the School Nutrition Application ASAP to continue to receive free meals if eligible.

What is the School Nutrition Program application?

The School Nutrition Program application is a United States Department of Agriculture form used to determine if a PK-12 student is eligible to receive free or reduced meals during the school year. This application must be completed by families EVERY YEAR, even if your children received free/reduced meals the previous year.

Why is it important that I complete the School Nutrition Program application?

Eligible students can receive free or reduced breakfast and lunch every school day. Eligible students also receive other benefits including: reduced subscription busing fees, reduced elementary string instrument rental fees, waived/reduced iPad insurance, waiver/reduced field trip fees, reduced college application and test fees, and additional college grant/scholarship eligibility.

Why is it important to Piscataway Schools that I complete the School Nutrition Program application?

Even if your children will not participate in our meal program, it is important to our District that you complete this form annually. The State of New Jersey provides funding to school districts to help support the annual school budget. State School Aid accounted for 17% of the 2022-2023 Piscataway Schools budget.

A portion of State School Aid is based upon total student enrollment with additional funding provided based on the number of students eligible for free or reduced meals. If families do not complete the application, our student enrollment counts will be underreported and Piscataway Schools may lose some State School Aid for which it would otherwise be eligible in 2023-2024.

What happens to the Piscataway Schools budget if State School Aid is decreased in 2022-2023?

Any reduction in State School Aid will require that the district address the budget shortfall by either raising property taxes to provide additional revenue and/or reducing the amount we spend on staffing, instructional programs and non-instructional costs.
